Identity and Belonging in a Changing Great Britain Facing History and Ourselves

In a time when debates about national identity and integration have taken on increased urgency, Facing History and Ourselves introduces, Identity and Belonging in a Changing Great Britain. This timely resource gives students and teachers a greater understanding of identity, membership, citizenship, and belonging in the UK. It reveals experiences of newcomers and the dilemmas surrounding immigration—from the individual to the collective—through memoirs, journalistic accounts, and interviews. Identity and Belonging in a Changing Great Britain is a critical and relevant resource for British educators in schools and other organizations that are addressing the duty to promote community cohesion. This is also an important resource for political science, sociology, education and religious studies courses at the university level. Features include: 15 readings that explore religion, migration, integration, and national identities; Personal narratives from Billy Bragg, Theodore Dalrymple, Sarfraz Manzoor, and others; and Connection Questions at the end of each reading to encourage classroom discussion
