Any child who has ever formed a simple mud pie with their fingers will take delight in hearing a parent read at bedtime, "Jesus, I feel close to You when I sink my hands in the mud...I remember how You smeared mud on the blind man's eyes--and then he could see!" Any child who has ever scaled a tree will find himself pulled into the drama with passages such as, "Jesus, I feel close to You when I sit way high up in a tree...I remember how Zacchaeus climbed a tree to see You better--and You looked up and found him there!" This charming, beautifully illustrated book invites children to compare their own experiences with vividly presented scenes from Jesus' life such as working side-by-side with Joseph in his carpenter's shop, being "lost" in a crowd, healing a blind man with mud, and, finally, Jesus' death and resurrection. Children of every age and denomination will draw intimately closer to Jesus, and receive timely reassurances in the struggles, fears, challenges and victories that face us all--big and small. With stirring illustrations by Phyllis Saroff creatively melding our times with ancient Bible times, this book is like no other.
